MOTORCYCLE COP IS HURT
Police Chase Drivers to Nee-
nah—Many Minor Accidents Reported

One Appleton man is in a hospital
in Fond du Lac with serious injuries.
Several persons are nursing painful
wounds and more than a dozen automobiles are in a wrecked condition as the result of a series of accidents that occurred during the movement of thousands of cars over the highways
while people were on outings for the 2-day holiday period afforded by Labor day.

Edward Woehler was the most seriously hurt, figuring in a smashup near Fond du Lac in which three cars were involved. One of the occupants of the machine his car
struck, a Milwaukee man, was killed
and several others hurt.

Joseph Bayer, motorcycle officer,
was hurt in a collision on Pearl-st.
hill and the responsible driver caught
by the police after pursuit to Nee-
nah. A number of other collisions and tip-overs occurred in this locality without serious consequences to occupants of cars. Another accident near Fond du Lac, but not involving Appleton people, resulted in one death.

Edward Woehler, 37, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Woehler, 806 Appleton-st., in St. Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, with his left arm crushed and his body lacerated and bruised as a result of a collision on Highway 15 near Van Dyne at 3:45 Sunday morning in which Paul Schweda, 1089 First-ave., Milwaukee, was killed and seven persons were injured, one seriously. Two colored muscians from Rainbow gardens, Appleton, were in the car with Mr. Woehler but neither was seriously hurt. They were discharged from the hospital Monday morning. Woehler's condition is said to be serious.

Woehler, it is said, was taking the colored men to Milwaukee in a closed
car. He said a large touring car,
driving at a high rate of speed,
brushed against him and forced him
to swerve on the highway and his car crashed headlong in the Schweda machine. It also is said that Woehler was attempting to pass another car going in the same direction when the accident occurred.

Mr. Schweda, his wife, four children and two adults, was on his way from Milwaukee to Green Bay and got an early start. Schweda's skull was crushed and he died almost instantly.
Mrs. Schweda was cut, her baby was buried under the car but escaped with a few bruises; John Klapsinski, Milwaukee, was thrown through the windshield and was badly cut.

A number of Appleton people, who had started early for Milwaukee and other cities in the southern part of the state, arrived at the place shortly after the accident.

MOTORCYCLE HURT
Pursuit of Fred F. Roberts, 1411 E.
Sixtieth-st., Chicago, as far as Nee-nah by the police occurred about 2:30 Monday afternoon after Joseph Bayer, motorcycle officer of the local department, had been hurt on Pearl-st. hill
and his machine wrecked by the Roberts car.

Officer Bayer is confined to his home with painful bruises on his head and limbs. It is not believed that his injuries are serious, but it perhaps
will be several days before he returns
to duty.

The policeman was going up Pearl-
st. hill next to the wall at the east.
Mr. Roberts and a companion were descending. A street car and another automobile were ahead of them, so
the police say the Chicago man swung
to the extreme left in order to pass going down the hill almost against the wall. Officer Bayer was crowded against the wall and thrown from the motorcycle.

Mr. Roberts stopped his machine a short distance away and a man riding with him got out and went back. The officer had gotten up and was in a dazed condition. He gave an incoherent answer as to his being hurt. The man then returned to the automobile and told Mr. Roberts the victim was not hurt and that only the fender of the motorcycle was bent. The Illinois machine then started away.

The police automobile containing Chief George T. Trim was returning from a south side call about this time and passed the Roberts machine in the "flats." The officers then came upon the motorcycle and Mr. Bayer and obtained a description of the departed car from a bystander. Pursuit was taken up through heavy traffic on Menasha-rd and Mr. Roberts overtaken at Nee-nah. The police in Nee-nah had been notified to halt the machine at the bridge there in case it was not overtaken. The Chicago men then returned here and were detained until all details of the collision could be learned. The entire front end of the motorcycle was demolished and it is probable that a new one will have to be purchased. The present machine has been in service about a month.

Labor Chiefs To Get Strike Call

By Associated Press

Chicago—With the government rail strike injunction universally condemned by union leaders in Labor day
messages, impending federal court action in cases growing out of arrests
for alleged violations of the writ occupied the foreground of the picture of the nation's industrial situation
Tuesday. The customary Labor day celebrations and gatherings were featured generally by speeches assailing
the injunction. In some cities, notably Chicago, the usual Labor day programs were disposed with entirely.

Members of the executive council of American Federation of Labor turned their steps toward Atlantic City Tuesday. Although their conference was originally set to begin next Saturday,
the leaders planned to take possession of a private suite in a hotel at Atlantic City Wednesday. At this gathering Mr. Gompers said he would place before the committee requests from various labor organizations for a general strike call. Federation officials had previously asserted the council is without authority to call a general strike without sanction by a national convention of the federation.

At Ardmore, Okla., inspectors were investigating what Santa Fe Railroad
officials said was an attempt to wreck
a passenger train bound from Kansas City to Galveston. The engineer reported he found an open switch with
the signal lights broken off.

Nineteen freight cars were burned
in the yards of the Great Northern,
Great Falls, Mont.

Two men were arrested at Cynthiana, Ky., charged with attempting to wreck a L. & N. passenger train.

Sunday morning between an automobile in which she was riding and driven by John Schmoll, Kimberly, and a car driven by John Smith, 1288 Appleton-st. and owned by Emil Speller, 1262 Appleton-st. The accident occurred on Second-ave. Radiators, fend-ers and a headlight on the machines were damaged. Miss Rutter complained of pains in her neck.

Failing to make the turn at Lake
and Foster-st. while riding in a Ford coupe about 2 o'clock Monday morning, Robert Colby, Anderson hotel, Nee-nah, and Doynt Wester, Galesburg, also staying at Anderson hotel,
escaped injury when the machine turned over. The police found that the automobile was owned by F. J.
Aylward, 206 East Doty-ave., Nee-nah.
He was reached by telephone and said
the car had been taken without permission but refused to file a complaint against the men.

Slight damage resulted when automobiles driven by Walter Sager, 370
Superior-st., and Adolph Kotche, Manitowoc, collided at the Oneida-st. and Second-ave. intersection about 2:15
Monday afternoon. The occupants were unhurt.

George J. Weyenberg's car collided with another driven by Oscar Bart man at the corner of Second-ave. and Crawford-st. at 9:45 Monday evening.
The damage was slight. The police found that Mr. Weyenberg's car was one light on his car, showing dimly,
and warned him to refrain from driving in that manner again.

Two automobile-loads of tourists
came to grief at McCarty crossing,
north of Kaukauna, about 5 o'clock
Monday afternoon when their machines collided. One had a front wheel broken off and the other a rear wheel.
Both cars bore Wisconsin licenses.
The occupants were unhurt.

Julius Farmer's Green Bay, driving a Franklin car, was slightly injured when he crashed into a telephone pole at the corner of Grignon
and Draper-sts., Kaukauna, early Sunday evening to avoid colliding with a Ford car which turned the corner to sharply. The Franklin was demolished. The Ford driver hurried away. Farmer was taken to a doctor and his injuries dressed.

A fatality occurred Sunday evening
on the Appleton-Fond du Lac road, between Kinkor's farm and Van-dyne. The victim was Louis Selinska, a Berlin man, employed for several months as repair man by the Service Motor company of Fond du Lac.
He was engaged in jacking up the rear of his car to repair a punctured
tire when a car driven by Leo C.
Jagdfeld of Fond du Lac, crashed
into the rear of the parked car,
dragging Selinska for several feet
and fracturing his neck. Jagdfeld took the man in his machine to St.
Agnes hospital, Fond du Lac, but life
was extinct.

Salinska, accompanied by Frank Fondal and two young ladies, had visited Berlin and were on their way back, by the way of Oshkosh, Fondal
and the two young ladies were standing on the cement road and when they saw the machine coming from behind, about six feet away, Fondal
pushed the two girls into the ditch
and jumped to one side.

Washington—Further efforts to settle the shopmen's strike may be expected this week. The federal government is not content with the restraining orders it has obtained from the courts to prevent violence and interruption of railway traffic. Unofficial moves to mediate are a natural corollary of the situation. The success of mediation in the hard coal strike and the peaceful ending of the soft coal controversy have made even more necessary the finding of some common ground for the settlement of the shopmen's strike.

Unless cars are a valuable movement of the coal that is produced, the ending of the coal strike will have been futile. The entire attention of the government now is concentrated on the rail dispute.

CITY DESERTED AS RESIDENTS SEEK HOLIDAY

Thousands of Persons Attracted to Pionics and Outings on Monday

TOURISTS CLOG HIGHWAYS

All Records for Automobile
Traffic Smashed Over
the Weekend

With thousands of persons attending picnics and outings, hundreds at baseball games and other hundreds answering the call of the road with their automobiles, Appleton streets
were deserted Monday afternoon, except for tourists passing through on their way home. The traffic Monday afternoon was terrific. Roads were clogged with automobiles and accidents were numerous.

Picnics given by labor organizations
and fraternal societies attracted large crowds. Swarms of people composed of members of Appleton labor unions and their wives and families visited Waverly Beach on Labor Day, Monday, to participate in the Trades and Labor Council's annual picnic. It is estimated that several thousand laboring folk were on the grounds.

The exercises were entirely informal, and no detailed program of "stunts" was carried out. On the other hand, the picnicers made use of the bathing beach and the dance pavilion practically all day and evening, while the children frolicked
on the merry-go-round and the ferris wheel.

The picnic was a departure from the usual parade and other formalities of previous years. Families took their lunch in baskets and made a day of it in the park.

More than 3,000 employees of the Combined Locks Paper company, their families and friends, attended the picnic given for them by the company
at Combined Locks on Monday. An auto parade took place at 8:30 in the morning to Kaukauna, Little Chute and Kimberly and was followed by dinner in the park. Games and contests were staged in the afternoon including a baseball game between the married and single men with the married men winning by a score of 6 to
5. The Royal Garden Flute from Oshkosh furnished the music for dancing.

Employees of the Interlake Pulp
and Paper company were given a picnic at Interlake park on Monday
by the Interlake Athletic association.
More than 300 men and their families gathered at the park at 10 o'clock for games and contests of all kinds and more than 140 prizes were given. Dinner was served by the committee.

A large number attended the Masonic picnic at Ottowano beach on Monday. Games and contests took place in the afternoon. Many went in bathing and others went boating.
Each family furnished its own basket
lunch and coffee of milk was served to more than 750 people. Ice cream cones and lemonade were served to the children.

NEW JUSTICE

GEO. SUTHERLAND

NEARLY 1,500 BALLOTS CAST IN ELECTION

Less Than One-third of Possible Vote Is Cast Shortly
After Noon Today

Up to shortly afternoon a total of 1,500 votes had been cast in all of the precincts of the city. Women were voting in the proportion of about one-third of the total. It was expected that the afternoon would bring the feminine voters out in greater numbers.

Voting in the 12 precincts of Appleton began at a very brisk gait
Tuesday morning. As early as 6 o'clock before the election boards
had arrived at the polls, some voters were already waiting to cast their ballot. Up to 9 o'clock 100 votes had been cast in the two precincts of the Second ward, the downtown polling stations.

The votes cast by precincts up to shortly afternoon were as follows:
First ward, first precinct, 161; second precinct, 151. Second ward, first precinct, 177; second precinct, 135.
Third ward, first precinct, 200; second precinct, 123. Fourth ward, first precinct, 77; second precinct, 90.
Fifth ward, first precinct, 132; second precinct, 109. Sixth ward, first precinct, 100; second precinct, 129.

First voters in the different precincts were the following:

M. J. O'Connor, and G. C. Lipke,
first and second precincts, First ward;
Miss L. Chandler and Dr. W. H.
Meeker, second precinct, Second ward;
Carl Wojahn, Third ward; Miss Kate
Young and Ben Grassel, Fourth ward;
Henry Schneider and Henry Loch-smith, Fifth ward; Ernest Ross and John Ward, Sixth ward.

CHILDREN FLOCK TO SCHOOLS FOR OPENING SESSION

Record Enrolment Is Anticipated as Classes Swell—One Teacher Is Ill

Appleton public schools opened for the fall semester Tuesday morning
with indications that the enrolment
in most buildings will exceed that of last year. Complete figures will not be available for several days.

An especially busy day was experienced at the high school, where an attempt was made to adjust all programs during the day so the classes could start off without confusion Wednesday. The office clerks were swamped with requests of students who desired changes made.

Grades in the Second district
schools were filling to capacity rapidly and arrangements were being made to transfer pupils to take care of the overflow. The only teacher unable to report in the district was Miss Dorothy Richards, fourth grade, Lincoln school. She has been in a hospital and may be absent for several weeks. Miss Irene Sauter is substituting for her and Mrs. Vern Ames is filling the fifth grade position until a teacher is secured.

Students not previously enrolled at Appleton vocational school were received Tuesday morning. Those who were in last year's classes will come Wednesday. All teachers were here Monday to attend a conference
at which the year's plans were laid.

BAND IN CONCERT WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Another of the summer series of band concerts will be given by 121st

Prohibition Dominant Issue of Republican Congressional Contest

SENATE FIGHT, FEATURE

People to Decide Between La-Follette and Ganfield As Campaign Ends

By Associated Press

Milwaukee—Fair weather in all but the northwestern part of the state indicated that a heavy vote would be polled Tuesday in Wisconsin's statewide primary.

Wisconsin voters are Tuesday in an election determining the makeup of the list of candidates, including those of United States senator, congressmen, and state and legislation tickets,
who will have their names printed on the official ballots at the general election in November.

United States Senator Robert M. La-Follette, seeks to be returned. He campaigns the state quite thoroughly in defense of his record on war and other measures in the upper house in congress. He attacked President Harding's administration and its acts. He said the four power treaty as well as the Versailles treaty were objectionable to him and the McCumber-Fordney tariff bill he pronounced the "greatest robber tariff ever attempted." The Esch-Cummins law was denounced and the proposed ship
subsidy attacked.

GANFIELD VS "BOB"

William A. Ganfield, president of Carroll college and chosen by the citizens' Republican wing to oppose La-Follette, put up an active campaign in which he attacked the war party senator, his proposal to deprive the Supreme court of the final decision as to constitutionality of laws
and what he termed his apparent
ambition with the Socialists.

Associated with Senator LaFollette
and Mr. Ganfield, heading two separate Republican tickets, are Governor
J. J. Blaine and Attorney William J.
Morgan, respectively, each racing for
the party gubernatorial nomination.
Added to this is a third party Republican as an independent on a "constitutional" platform. Mr. McHenry, Republican gubernatorial candidate in May, A. C. Bentley, of LaCrosse, and Carl Mathie, Wausau, who seek the gubernatorial nomination on the Democratic ticket as wet and dry candidates respectively, is expected in a measure to test the strength of the prohibition cause in Wisconsin.

PROHIBITION ISSUE

Prohibition stood out as a dominant issue of the Republican congressional contests. Choice of a Wisconsin delegation favorable to their stand on the wet and dry question was actively sought by both the Wisconsin Anti-saloon league and the Wisconsin division of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Six of the eleven members of congress from Wisconsin during the last term were considered as wet by the Anti-saloon league, which is making an effort to capture control of the delegation.

The contest for United States Senatorial election, Senator LaFollette and Ganfield, has brought Anti-saloon league endorsement to Ganfield and opposition to LaFollette. Opposition to Ganfield is expressed by the Association Against the Prohibition amendment which says that the record of Senator LaFollette "is satisfactory
on our question."

COOPER A "DRY"

In the first congressional district congressman H. A. Cooper endorsed by the Anti-saloon league is opposed by Lawrence C. Whittey, said by the association against prohibition to be "satisfactory on our question" and by the Anti-saloon league to have "voted dry in the assembly."

Both congressmen Voigt and Edward F. Geht, his opponent for the nomination in the Second district are opposed to prohibition according to expressions from both the Anti-saloon league and the association against prohibition.

Two dry candidates opposed to prohibition are running in Third district.
Congressman John M. Nelson, "Wisconsin's first dry congressman," the Anti-saloon league says, is opposed by Alvin Peterson, a dry and by F. K.
Shuttworth and Conrad Pils, both considered wet.

The two Milwaukee districts, four and five, are left by the Anti-saloon League to their opponents. They have indorsed none of the candidates, all of whom are regarded as favorable to the wet.

District Six has a division between Congressman Florian Lampert, adjudged wet by the anti-saloon league
and described as "absolutely satisfactory by the association against prohibition, and State Senator W. A.
Ficus, an active dry.

Congressman Joseph Beck, who, according to the anti-prohibition association "voted for medicinal beer and is fair" is opposed in the seventh district
by A. C. Kingford, an active dry.

Candidates Await Verdict In Homes

By Associated Press

Madison—Candidates seeking party
nomination at the Wisconsin general
election primary went home to vote Tuesday.

Interest turned from the expressions of the aspirants for governmental office to expression of the Wisconsin electorate. Having rested their case with the people the candidates retired to vote and to watch for the word from the other voters that will register their political faith.

GANFIELD CONFIDENT

William A. Ganfield, president of the Carroll college, Monday night ended his first campaign for public office. He was back in Waukesha Tuesday confident that the voters would nominate him Republican candidate for the United States senate, a confidence he says has been gained through the expressions he has received during the 300 speeches made by him in his campaign.

Senator LaFollette came to his home in Madison after closing his twenty-fifth year of campaigning at Platteville, set in the opinion that not only would he be renominated in the primary but that he would receive a large vote.

HOLD APPLETON MEN AS ROBBERS IN WAUPACA JAIL

Young Men Are Accused of Robbing Garage—Caught After 2-Mile Chase

Two Appleton young men, J. D. Quayle and William Hoffman, are in the county jail at Waupaca charged with robbing the Modern garage owned by Sherman Salverson about 12:30 Tuesday morning. The young men were caught after a two hour chase by Sheriff Toepke the Waupaca chief of police and a motorcycle officer. A third member of the burglary party escaped. Appleton police found that Quayle lives 1352 Rogers ave. and that he is a brother-in-law of Hoffman.

According to reports from Waupaca the three young men were seen Monday evening attempting to take the car away from the garage. They were driven away shortly after midnight. The Waupaca police were notified of the garage robbery and they started in pursuit of the Appleton men who were riding in a Ford truck. The trail had been picked up and they were chased to the outskirts of the city. One of the men was seated in the rear of the truck and he jumped out when he saw that capture was imminent and escaped in the woods. Police officers fired at him but he wouldn't stop. The other men in the car surrendered without a fight. The stolen material was found in the car it was said.

Police here learned the truck had been purchased here from Charles Belzer on Sunday. Quayle and Hoffman were to be arraigned in court at Waupaca today on a charge of burglary in the night time.

HOG FEEDING WILL BE GIVEN ANALYSIS

Do self feeding devices pay? How may hogs be fed more cheaply?

These questions will be cleared up for many farmers at the gathering which is to be held at the Josiah Byrne farm three miles northeast of Apple Creek on Wednesday at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The basis of the study will be the results of feeding tests conducted by L. E. McKay of the college of agriculture, Madison, and Paul O. N. hut farm agent of the First National bank on 24 pigs which were weighed last May a feed record kept and the litter weighed again Thursday. Similar tests at the Roy Schmitt farm, Ellington also will be announced.

Eugene LeRicheux, a member of the faculty of Lawrence Conservatory, announces class work for pupils up to the age of sixteen years. Experience has proved that success in music education is best attained when the private lesson is supplemented by class work definitely related to it.

Rhythm, Harmony, Ear Training and Class Playing form the ground work of these classes. A special feature is a combination of private lessons and class work for children between the ages of five and eight years. This work will follow the Caruthers' System of Musical Training.

Enroll at the Conservatory Office, September 12th.

GOOD SCORES MADE IN GUN TOURNAMENT

Visiting Marksmen Win Majority of Prizes in Sunday's Shoot

Kaukauna, Two Rivers, Eagle River and Wausau took high honors in the shooting tournament staged by the Appleton Angling and Shooting club near Waverly beach Sunday. Professionals from Illinois made the highest scores, but according to the rules of the tournament, previously announced, they were not eligible to receive prizes.

Winners of the six single events were F. G. Wochman, Wausau, first event G. S. Hamilton, Two Rivers second J. F. Hamilton, third, B. C. Ewald, Eagle River fourth, Charles Lenz, Wausau fifth, F. J. Strong, Eagle River sixth. All but B. C. Ewald and Charles Lenz were originally tied for first place and were required to shoot it out to win. Wil Lam Harwood won in the doubles event after he had been tied with Ewald. Mrs. Emma A. Stribley of Kaukauna won the ladies high gun event, breaking 109 out of 130 shots. H. C. Kirkwood of La Grange, Ill. was winner in the professional high gun event, breaking 147 out of 150. Ewald of Eagle River won in the 200 target event, breaking 171.

Following were the winners in the membership high gun event: George Puth Appleton Samuel Chindrest Menasha William Falatuck Appleton C. W. Stribley Kaukauna, G. L. Chamberlain Appleton.

The totals are as follows:

HEAVY FIRE LOSS AT BLACK CREEK

Farmer's Barn, Silo, Granary, and Machine Sheds Are Destroyed

Loss estimated at several thousand dollars was caused about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning when fire broke out in the barn on the farm of Mike Magaurn, town of Black Creek, about two and one half miles west of the village of Black Creek. The barn, silo, granary and sheds were totally destroyed but the farmhouse, pig sheds and chicken coops were saved. The threshers had not yet visited the farm and all the grain was stored in the barn. Insurance covered the loss. Mike Magaurn, owner of the farm, resides at Long Lake, so the exact value of the destroyed property and the insurance is unknown. The farm has been occupied and kept up for the last three years by August Lock. The farm automobile was in the village garage for repairs. The horses were driven out of the burning barn and the cows were in the pasture. No live stock was burned.

M. E. CONFERENCE OPENS AT OSHKOSH

Several Appleton Men on Program for Addresses This Week

Dr. J. H. Tippet and Dr. J. A. Holmes left Tuesday afternoon for Oshkosh where they will attend the Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which opened Tuesday morning with the examination of undergraduates and a meeting of the board of examiners and undergraduates in the afternoon. The commission of conference claimants also met Tuesday afternoon.

After the welcome and opening of the conference on Tuesday evening, Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, will preside at an educational forum at which Dr. E. V. Blakeman will speak on "The Church and the Public Schools." Dr. Blakeman is the Methodist pastor at the University of Wisconsin.

Bishop Charles B. Mitchell of St. Paul will open the regular conference session on Wednesday morning. The Rev. C. W. Heywood will preach the missionary sermon in the afternoon, followed by Prof. H. F. Hall of Evansville at the Preachers' Forum. Dr. A. E. Moss of New York will give an address on the achievements of missions in the evening.

Dr. D. O. Kinsman of Lawrence college will have charge of a study of industrial relations Friday afternoon at which Judson G. Rosebush of Appleton will speak on "Personal Relations in Industry" and Dr. Richard Evans of Wausau will speak on a "Brief Survey of a Modern Industrial Plant."

Bishop Mitchell will preach the conference sermon Sunday morning. The ordination of elders and deacons and the consecration of the appointment of ministers will take place in the afternoon. Announcement of the appointment of ministers will be made Monday morning before the close of the session.

THE PEOPLE'S AID

(This department is a channel for complaints pertaining to any branch of public service. Residents who know of any irregularities in street conditions, health department, police protection, water service, etc., may notify The People's Aid, care of the Post-Crescent, and the proper authorities will be interviewed.)

To The People's Aid: There are adequate sewer and water mains in this block No. 8, Bateman addition between Union and Bateman, and Atlantic and Hancock-sts., right in the heart of the city, still there are a number of the residents who persist in keeping outside toilets to the menace of the health of the community. Why are these public nuisances allowed to remain?

Mrs. F. S. Answer: I wish that the complaint had been made just a little earlier. Residents cannot be compelled to remove their outside toilets after Sept. 1. The ordinance requires that persons must be notified between Mar. 1 and Sept. 1. But we shall investigate the matter anyway for action next year.

Dr. W. C. Felton, Health Commissioner.

Fire at P. O. The fire department received an alarm from the postoffice about 7:15 Monday evening when combustion in rags in the basement caused a blaze. Chemicals were used, preventing any damage.

quarters of the railway executives about normalcy on their roads. The executives have been issuing statements galore in an effort to induce strikers to come back to work, it being assumed that the strikers will grow panicky and flock back to their posts as they see their jobs being permanently filled. But the morale of the strikers is not so easily broken and the government knows exactly how bad are transportation conditions.

Two fundamentals, however, interpose themselves in the situation—the railroads cannot be compelled to take back their old employees unless they wish to do so of their own free will and the striking shophmen cannot be forced to go back to work under conditions unfavorable to them. Neither the United States Labor board nor a million injunctions can directly force either side to yield. As the endurance fight drags on, however, the condition of railway equipment coupled with the spread of acts of violence will compel the federal government to take a hand and bring in federal force into play.

Here again are two opposing influences—the railway executives and behind them the conservative elements in the American business world who insist that if protection were really granted there would be enough men recruited to break the strike and the advocates of government operation of coal carrying roads who insist that the former course would only mean delay and no assurance of normal transportation.

Along with the idea of furnishing protection, it is being urged that the government use the entire army if necessary to enforce the injunctions which have been issued against strikers who may perpetrate acts of violence. It is a short step to the use of troops on trains irrespective of whether prospective violence would only mean delay and no assurance of normal transportation.

MAY USE TROOPS Federal troops are bound to be used in large numbers before the strike is settled but there is a disinclination to use troops unless the government actually is in control of the roads. And under such circumstances, the strikers are not likely to interrupt traffic but are represented as more than eager to effect a settlement. The moment government control starts, the shophmen will return to work.

Mr. Harding is personally opposed to seizing any railroads. He has only permitted his mind thus far to gauge the possibility of asking congress for the necessary power while promising not to exercise it. The drift of events unless some mediation can be devised however, is slowly in that direction, during the next two weeks to prevent it.

INVITE ACCIDENTS BY IGNORING SIREN

Inconsiderate Autoists Warned by Police to Heed Warning Horns

Inconsiderate autoists who appear to be ignorant of the meaning of a siren's warning again delayed an emergency trip of the police department Monday, according to George T. Prim, chief of police.

An autoist who had left an accident victim unattended was being pursued by the police car. There were many cars on the highway between Appleton and Menasha and the siren was used to screech its warning so the police car could have the right of way.

"Most of the machines either took to one side of the road or stopped to let us pass," said Chief Prim. "But there was an occasional driver who heard us plainly, yet made us travel behind him for some distance. Some day there is going to be a serious accident, with the blame placed on some driver who does not know that the sound of a siren horn used by the police or fire departments means a demand for an unimpeded highway."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weinkauf and family spent the weekend as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Funk at Rub Lake. They made the trip by auto.

THE STAGE

Beyond the Rocks "a Great Love Story"

It is safe to say that you have never witnessed the last word in the art of love-making until you see the romance that is most delightfully enacted by Gloria Swanson and that ever popular screen lover Rodolph Valentino, star and leading man, respectively in "Beyond the Rocks," opening tomorrow at Fischer's Appleton Theatre.

The story was prepared by Elinor Glynn, and it is based on one of her successful novels. Notables in the cast include Robert Bolder, Alec E. Francis, Mabel VanBuren, Gertrude Astor, Edythe Chapman, and June Elvidge. All acquit themselves with eminently satisfactory results. There is no doubt but what the picture will score decisively.

LEGION RESUMES ITS MEETINGS NEXT WEEK

Oney Johnston post of the American Legion will hold its first fall meeting on the evening of Sept. 11, or the second Monday in September, rather than the first Monday, the usual meeting date. This provision was made at a meeting of the executive committee Friday evening. Meetings had been suspended during the summer months. It is planned to secure a large attendance at the opening meeting of fall activities.

POSTAL BALLPLAYERS DEFEATED BY OSHKOSH

Appleton postoffice baseball team went down in defeat before the sluggers of the Oshkosh letter clerks and carriers at the Wisconsin State league park Sunday afternoon at the score of 13 to 11. Appleton is willing to concede the valley championship to the Oshkosh team, as this is the second straight game they won this year.

Previously they had not won a game from Appleton in 15 years. Oshkosh battled well in pinches, chief honors going to Bachtlett, Oshkosh's star shortstop, who hammered out two home runs. His fielding also was excellent. Appleton was handicapped by a crippled battery. Harry Junge was too ill to catch and his place was taken by William Kostitzke. Herman Schneider did well until the sixth inning when he wrenched his foot sliding bases. His brother, Edward Schneider, finished for the local team. The battery for Oshkosh was Lee Smith and George Smith.

Drunk Jailed J. H. Stoer, 1116 South Main-st., Oshkosh, was arrested at the corner of College-ave, and Oneida-st. Monday evening in an intoxicated condition. He is confined in the city jail until Wednesday, when municipal court convenes.

DERAILMENT TIES UP TRAINS ON C. & N. W.

Traffic on the Ashland division of the Chicago & Northwestern railway was tied up for about five hours Monday when a freight engine and two cars were derailed south of the northwestern bridge. A soft roadbed is believed to have been the cause. The engine and cars were replaced on the rails without the aid of a wrecking crew.

DOES FRANCE HATE GERMANY?

France is emotional. And, as far as resentment against irreparable wrong is concerned, France is fully justified in manifesting its emotion toward Germany in the form of hate. Yet, hate never serves any cause, and, above all, it detracts from the character of a worthy cause.

France seems to be determined to make Germany meet the reparations terms literally and speedily. France even considers collecting what is due by invading Germany. Invasion of Germany would injure France. It would weaken the republican force in Germany, and the monarchic and militarist issue would again menace all continental Europe. It does not pay to hate. Germany found that out. It is far wiser to be merciful.

SHALL WE HAVE OUR PROSPERITY?

The culmination of conditions conducive to solid, permanent prosperity is the equalizing of the people's buying power, through industrial employment, with the agricultural production. Settlement of the coal strike put industry in a favorable position to increase production and employment. Reports from agricultural districts indicate that crops generally will be large.

What more is necessary, then, to hasten prosperity? For one thing, the transportation facilities and service must be adequate to haul coal, farm products, manufactured goods and merchandise. The strain on the railroads from now on will be great, as coal will be moving two and a half months behind schedule.

Another thing necessary is to regulate the distribution of coal so that it will be conveyed to distant points first and at the same time be allotted to industrial operation. Two results would be attained by controlling distribution; first, railroad congestion would be prevented, and, second, as competition for fuel would be eliminated, coal prices would be held in check.

It is up to the federal government to take charge of transportation, as, if it does not, prosperity will fall down. It is up to the federal government, with the coal-producing states cooperating, to regulate coal distribution.

Prosperity is here, and, if we want it, we can take it. If we do not take it, farm products will be lost, food prices will be high, and employment will be curtailed.

WONDERFUL CURES BY THE COUE SYSTEM

Upon reading with the deepest interest of the most remarkable cures which the small, mild-mannered Frenchman, Emile Coue, effected in London and Paris by mental persuasion, we had hoped that a practical savant had discovered the hidden principles of the mind's workings and the mind's power. But the explanatory theories which Coue advances are as deplorably unsatisfying, scientifically, as his treatments were uniquely dramatic and marvelously successful.

The Coue principle is auto-suggestion. He tells his patients, sincerely and convincingly, they will become well again if they think they are well. He advises them to think they are well, and they are well. It is better for them to be general in their belief, but there is no special objection to concentrating on a particular ailment.

The Coue system of curing physical disease is attracting widespread attention in the United States, and doubtless it will be studied and discussed among all classes of citizens for some time in the future. Coue was unable to visit this country, and returned to Nancy, France, but an interpretation of his theory and description of his system of practice is being circulated here to satisfy the interest which his cures in London enticed.

What is the Coue theory? He declares that "two absolutely distinct selves exist within us." One is the unconscious self, to which he refers as imagination, or of which, to be more exact, it is a manifestation. We are not endowed with free will, but are subject to this dominant force, the unconscious self, which is supreme. The basic idea, which science long ago tentatively accepted, is that there is an objective and subjective mind, as distinguished from a conscious and subconscious self. The brain consists of two lobes. Investigation long ago proved that there is a process of cerebration which is subconscious, or, in plain terms, that one or another lobe or part of the brain frequently activates from habit. It is known, too, that both lobes of the brain frequently function at the same time on different thoughts.

So, as far as theory goes, the Coue theory is opposed by the best judgment of the most reliable investigations. As a scientific theory it is ridiculous. In regard to cures by mental persuasion or self-suggestion, they are realities. We should all be healthier and happier if we used our will more wisely and oftener, and if we accustomed ourselves to optimism.

THE MOUNTAIN AND THE MOTOR CAR

The Alps have been conquered by the motor car and the "Route des Alpes," stretching from Nice to Evian-les-Bains, on the Lake of Geneva, is exciting the wonder and admiration of European motorists.

Had the Alps been in the United States the chances are such a highway would have been completed long ago, for if there is one thing the American road-builder likes above all others things it is to build a road where apparently no road was expected or intended to go. The American road-builder is a Roman by instinct, adapting the Roman determination to modern scientific knowledge and a concession to beauty. Thus of two ways he will choose the less costly, and for a scenic gem he is willing to add a detour. The Roman went straight, over hill and through dale, and he built very excellent roads.

In this country development of the motor vehicle followed hard on the spread of civilization itself and by the time the western communities began to take on numerical importance transportation methods were improving by leaps and bounds. Development of the Adirondacks and Catskills in the east for playgrounds, and bridging the Rockies, Cascades and Sierras as a matter of economic necessity followed as a matter of course. So long ago as 1907 a former Michigan lumberman came east from Seattle, purchased a premier high-powered car and drove all the way back to the North Pacific coast, being the first car to traverse the famous Snoqualmie Pass. Now that is a transcontinental highway, one of several and such trips are common enough to excite no public interest.

One region yet inaccessible to the motorist is the wild Olympics back of the Puget Sound Navy Yard, but even that waits only for the impulse which at present is expending itself generally over the land in amplifying present communication.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Noted Physician and Author.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column. All letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

EXERCISE AND OVERWEIGHT

Having harped right much about exercise in this column, I fear some readers assume I am over enthusiastic on the subject. On the contrary, I have dwelt almost incessantly on the evil done by exercise in various ailments for which exercise is indiscriminately prescribed by druggists and mail order dealers of every description. For instance, many a victim of indigestion or early tuberculosis is strolling or walking or lightly playing a little nearer to the grave each day because he foolishly fancies that a little exercise will "strengthen" him and that rest in bed will "weaken" him. The average person who holds that "plenty of fresh air, pure food and sunshine" will cure tuberculosis generally harbors the dangerous delusion that exercise is like a cure-all and that consumptives should experiment with these "natural" remedies and give doctors a wide berth. The sad part of it is that a lot of consumptives follow this poor advice and make a short job of it.

Should fat folks exercise? Is exercise of any value in a reduction regimen? May one reduce this or that part of the body by exercise particularly bringing into play the muscles of the region where the fat is excessive? Is there any risk involved in general or special exercises for fat individuals?

Fat folks should exercise if they wish to remain with us a little longer. A person who is, let us say, forty pounds overweight, constantly subjects his heart to a strain precisely equivalent to the strain of a normal individual constantly carrying a 40 pound pack on his shoulders. That strain shortens life. Therefore fat folks should exercise religiously, for the purpose of burning up at least part of the excess fuel or nutriment which is otherwise deposited as superfluous flesh, slacker flesh—burdensome, heart straining, life shortening fat.

Exercise is of little value in a reduction regimen. It is of great value in a health building regimen for fat folks, however. Most obese persons are flabby from disuse of the muscles, from riding too much and walking too little, from sitting at work, at the ball game, at church, in the theater, sitting instead of playing. Indeed, many overweight individuals who cultivate and religiously exercise follow a system of daily exercise enjoy a gratifying gain in poise and appearance and health yet notice little or no loss of weight. They substitute muscular laxity for slacker fat and their friends think they have "reduced" because they no longer appear flabby.

One whose intake of nutriment is properly regulated may reduce this or that part of the body by exercise particularly selected. It is a physiological rule that superfluous fat is first deposited about muscles which are least used—for instance, the belly, hips, thighs of corpulent women. Reverse the rule and it still works fairly well: fat is first melted away from regions whose muscles are most used.

No greater or less risk is involved in exercise for fat folks than is involved for everybody. People who have anything wrong with the heart or arteries should take only such exercise as their medical advisors may prescribe.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Water in Her Ears

I love swimming, but nearly every time I go in, especially if I dive much, water gets in my ears so that I cannot hear for several days at a time. Can you suggest a preventative for this.—(F. A. J.)

Answer.—Perhaps there are masses of hardened wax in the ear canals which swell when water enters the ears and cause the deafness. Examination by your doctor and removal of such accumulations would prevent the trouble. Swimmers bothered by water entering the ear may insert in each ear canal before entering the water a loose packing of lamb's wool (not cotton). Persons with perforated ear drums should do this as a precaution against cold water entering the middle ear cavity and causing dizziness, vertigo, or helplessness in the water—possibly an explanation for some otherwise unaccountable drowning accidents.

Peril in Raw Pork

I eat an awful lot of raw pork sausage and hamburger when I am cooking it and I wonder if there is any danger in doing so.—(Mrs. C. M.)

Answer.—There is always a risk of ingesting the larvae of the pinworm in raw pork or ham or pork sausage, about one of every 60 hogs harboring this parasite in its flesh. Cooking it thoroly, as it always should be for pork or ham, destroys the parasites. Ordinary tapeworm infestation may occur from eating raw beef, since cattle are the common animal hosts of this parasite in this country—the beef being called "measly." Yours is a dangerous habit.

Cold Tea Versus Hot

I would be glad if you will state whether you consider cold tea more injurious than hot. I make tea to follow. Pour boiling water over the tea and let stand 10 minutes, then draw it off and place in a pitcher in the ice box to chill. Add lemon and sugar when cold.—(J. C. B.)

Answer.—It is quite as wholesome as hot tea.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

NEWBERRY'S SEAT MADE DIRECT ISSUE BECAUSE OF SECY HUGHES' LETTER

The "Newberry case" is a leading issue in the coming Congressional campaign. Editors of every political belief now insist that this has been the result of the letter written by Secretary of State Hughes to a New Jersey clergyman protesting that, from a legislative standpoint, a Senator from Michigan's title to his seat is unassailable.

Because the Secretary is an active member of President Harding's cabinet his utterances must be accepted as "more or less official" editors insist, and they are debating them from this angle. It generally also is agreed that from now on the statement of the Secretary, made just before he started down the stairs, becomes an integral part of the campaign, and an issue in all congressional fights.

Comment is naturally more or less tinged with partisanship, the Democratic view being voiced by the Baltimore SUN, (Ind. Dem.), declaring that "Newberry is too damned a spot to be rubbed out even by a manipulator of Mr. Hughes' ability. Mr. Hughes' pleading is almost purely technical. It ignores wholly the moral evidence. We recall no other job which Mr. Hughes has done so badly. Probably no one else could have done it any better." The Newark NEWS, (Ind.), suggests that "Secretary of State Hughes has tried to do a nice turn for Senator Frelinghuysen. The Hughes letter is notable for matters in connection with the Newberry case that are left unmentioned. As counsel for the Michigan Senator, Mr. Hughes puts up as strong a defense as was possible for his client. The letter of Secretary Hughes is a campaign document. Under these circumstances Congress can not, without stultifying itself, pass a pending bill that has been heretofore favored to prevent the repetition of such lavish expenditures by candidates for the Senate and House of Representatives."

But because both political parties profess to be scandalized by the lavish expenditures of their opposition, the New York TIMES, (Ind. Dem.), asks "why not be honest? Why not admit the obvious fact that this system of the people's will necessarily means the pouring out of money? The people who kick at Newberry—and he ought to be kicked at—must always do what he did, with comparative economical expenditures for their own region, in their own district, for diffusing themselves among an intelligent people."

The New York HERALD, (Ind. Rep.), also sees in the primary system the real cause for the Newberry expenditures and feels certain that he was a victim of his friends because "no wise man is going to defend the spending of huge sums to nominate or elect men whose only political asset is their wealth, but before passing on the morality of political expenditure all the circumstances of the case should be considered."

The Dayton NEWS, (Dem.), holds that "Mr. Hughes has muddled up the waters again in permitting himself to become involved in a controversy which is going to play a big part in the November political campaigns. Instead of making the road easier for some candidates, he has made it definitely more difficult. In attempting to defend the peace but has it effect also on things which take different forms in different institutions; in one place valuable collections are being ruined for want of naphthalene, or alcohol, in another a clinic is appealing for funds to buy bandages and necessities, and to continue the collections begun or keep up with publications. The Masserman Institution, for instance, before the war received an annual subsidy from the state of 500 crowns to buy rabbits for experiments. This subsidy remained unchanged until a few months ago. Now it is almost a hundred times as much, but what is the use of it when a rabbit costs 7 or 8 thousand crowns? A few weeks ago some Viennese banks and benefactors collected 50 millions for the clinical institutions, quickly a large amount but which was quite spent in buying a few indispensable apparatuses."

The director of the University library, Professor Frankfurter has been splendid in obtaining gratuitously from France, England, Germany and America, a great part of the collections interrupted during the war as well as new publications, but all this is a palliative and not a solution.

"In the midst of all these miseries we must remember that according to the present treaty of commerce with Austria, the students of all the Austrian Succession states have the right to study under the same conditions as the Austrians. It is reckoned that one student costs the University a million a year and of 12 thousand students less than half are Austrians, the others belong to the Succession States and find it pleasant or necessary to come and study in Vienna. I say necessary because at the Polish university of Cracow only 8 per cent of students from Eastern Galicia are admitted. All the others have to come to Vienna which, bound by the treaty cannot refuse them; or even limit their number; so that there are now one thousand five hundred students from Eastern Galicia in Vienna, and these Galicians are mostly poor Jews who almost exclusively have their means for earning at the free restaurant kept up by Austrian Jews."

"In spite of all this, Vienna has taken a new initiative and is arranging an international course of philosophy, philology, and law, with scientific and artistic excursions for next month. This initiative has among other things also the aim of making the miserable conditions known to all those interested in learning and to make propaganda for a great work of international help."

HAD EIGHTY TRUNKS—SHE PAID London.—According to the Daily Express one thousand pounds daily was paid to the English Customs by Mrs. Wickfield, a millionaire, of Washington, D. C., who arrived in London from Paris on Sunday night. The luggage of herself and party comprised eighty huge boxes, and it took the Customs officials until yesterday to appraise the perfumes and other dutiable articles they contained.

This is probably a luggage "record" for transatlantic visitors. A large motorcade was necessary to transport the boxes from Victoria to the Ritz Hotel, where Mrs. Wickfield and her party of four, including the Duchess de Chaulnes (also an American) together with six servants, are staying.

"supplies a readily intelligible and convincing summary of the proceedings in the case and will clear the air of a great deal of misapprehension on the subject." But, regardless of the arguments in the case, the Detroit News, (Ind.), believes that nothing that may be said can "clear up in any sense whatever the charge of the United States Senate that the process by which Mr. Newberry was nominated and elected is dangerous to free government."

The Lincoln Star, (Ind. Rep.) also believes that the interest in the case is due to the fact that "the voters of the nation are opposed to the un-American plan of selling seats in the United States Senate. What worthy services can be expected from a body of men that censures one of its members for spending more than a quarter of million dollars—nobody knows just how much more—and then welcomes his presence?" And the Knoxville Sentinel, (Ind. Dem.), "cannot understand how Mr. Hughes could have been prevailed on, for any consideration, to identify himself with 'Newberryism' as a political issue, if he had entertained any future and further political aspirations, in view of the fact that the issue is a most unpopular one in his own party."

CONDITIONS AT VIENNA UNIVERSITY

Vienna.—The miserable conditions of the world-famous Vienna University and the difficulties with which it has to contend are described in the Italian SECULO. The paper says:

"No less than 22 Chairs are vacant at the Vienna University and nobody seems to want them. The Professors who occupied them until now have left Vienna and Austria, and have been called to diffuse their knowledge beyond the Ocean or in other countries where science is not reduced to starvation."

"Starvation is a terrible reality at the present time in Austria for those who have to live only on what they earn from teaching science. It suffices to say that the salaries of university professors, in proportion, do not amount to a tenth of pre-war times, although they have been increased by the State as the crown has depreciated, and in proportion the cost of living has decreased very little."

The misery is not restricted only to people but has its effect also on things which take different forms in different institutions; in one place valuable collections are being ruined for want of naphthalene, or alcohol, in another a clinic is appealing for funds to buy bandages and necessities, and to continue the collections begun or keep up with publications. The Masserman Institution, for instance, before the war received an annual subsidy from the state of 500 crowns to buy rabbits for experiments. This subsidy remained unchanged until a few months ago. Did Mrs. Edward Rich of Jersey City give birth to a boy or girl? She says it was a boy. So does her husband, a statistician for Underwood Typewriter Co.

Now they discover that the baby in their cradle is a girl. Mrs. Rich thinks the hospital mixed babies, gave her the wrong one. A hornet's nest is stirred up.

A mix-up would have been impossible if the baby had been finger-printed at birth. No two people have the same fingerprints. And fingerprints never change. Attention, prospective mothers.

Wages of non-union miners are increased an average of 47 per cent by H. C. Frick interests and other big mine operators in western Pennsylvania.

This is another indication that the country is in a secondary period of inflation. It will not go as high as in the war boom. No two people have the same fingerprints. And fingerprints never change. Attention, prospective mothers.

Drop a rubber ball. It bounces several times before settling at rest. Prices, the same way.

In Wall Street, wage advances are viewed as forerunners of a labor shortage.

The stage seems to be set for a period of more jobs than men to fill them. In a nutshell, that sums up the results of the limiting of immigration. The restriction is to labor what the tariff is to commodities. If the gates were wide open, European workmen would be flocking in and underselling American wages.

Four different types of airplanes, each with a speed more than 200 miles an hour. A non-slip device that makes a tennis court big enough for a landing field.

Those are America's contributions to flying, so far this year, says Brig. Gen. Mitchell, head of Uncle Sam's flying forces.

When the fliers get the speed bug out of their heads, popularization of the airplane will begin. In buying planes, people will want safety instead of dizzy speed.

Mixup In Babies

Did Mrs. Edward Rich of Jersey City give birth to a boy or girl? She says it was a boy. So does her husband, a statistician for Underwood Typewriter Co.

Now they discover that the baby in their cradle is a girl. Mrs. Rich thinks the hospital mixed babies, gave her the wrong one. A hornet's nest is stirred up.

A mix-up would have been impossible if the baby had been finger-printed at birth. No two people have the same fingerprints. And fingerprints never change. Attention, prospective mothers.

Wages of non-union miners are increased an average of 47 per cent by H. C. Frick interests and other big mine operators in western Pennsylvania.

This is another indication that the country is in a secondary period of inflation. It will not go as high as in the war boom. No two people have the same fingerprints. And fingerprints never change. Attention, prospective mothers.

Drop a rubber ball. It bounces several times before settling at rest. Prices, the same way.

In Wall Street, wage advances are viewed as forerunners of a labor shortage.

The stage seems to be set for a period of more jobs than men to fill them. In a nutshell, that sums up the results of the limiting of immigration. The restriction is to labor what the tariff is to commodities. If the gates were wide open, European workmen would be flocking in and underselling American wages.

Four different types of airplanes, each with a speed more than 200 miles an hour. A non-slip device that makes a tennis court big enough for a landing field.

Those are America's contributions to flying, so far this year, says Brig. Gen. Mitchell, head of Uncle Sam's flying forces.

When the fliers get the speed bug out of their heads, popularization of the airplane will begin. In buying planes, people will want safety instead of dizzy speed.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. What city in the United States has the greatest Commission Row? R. S. T.

A. While all cities have such districts, none compares with Chicago's South Water Street in size and in volume of business transacted.

Q. When is a boy too old to be eligible for West Point? F. W.

A. The maximum age for entrance to the United States Military Academy is 21 years.

Q. How does the operation of an electric fan compare in expense with the burning of electric light? J. J. N.

A. An eight inch electric fan takes about as much electricity as a 25-watt Mazda bulb.

Q. Does a special delivery boy have to take Civil Service Examination? R. B. McN.

A. The Post Office Department says that special delivery carriers are not on the classified Civil Service list, and that a person interested in securing a position of this kind should apply to the local postmaster.

Two Appleton People Attend Family Reunion

Mrs. Frank Richardson and Miss Susie Anderson of Appleton were guests at a reunion of the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anderson of Eldorado, which was held Thursday and Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Anderson in Fond du Lac. Eight of the nine living children of the Anderson family were present. A brother, John, who lives in San Francisco, was not able to attend.

Sisters and brothers of the two Appleton women who were there were Mr. and Mrs. David Stevenson of New York, Mr. and Mrs. William Jeffries of Waukegan, England, Mrs. Albert Berndt of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hall of Oshkosh and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anderson, Jr. of Fond du Lac.

The family decided to hold a reunion each year and promised each other that the attendance would be 100 per cent. The two days were spent in visiting and autographing about the city.

ASK U. S. TO CLOSE WISCONSIN BREWERY

By Associated Press
Milwaukee—Recommendation that the permit to the Farmers Brewing Co., Shawano, Wis., be revoked because it made and sold beer of illegal alcoholic content, has been made to the prohibition enforcement headquarters in Washington by the Milwaukee office, Lewis J. Brabant, head of the legal division of the enforcement office here announced here Friday.

The recommendation followed a hearing recently at Green Bay. The defense of the brewery officials, Mr. Brabant said, was that the two samples taken outside the brewery on which the alcoholic test showed too much strength, were taken from beer which got out of the brewery by mistake. The brewery had beer on hand, the officials said, of pre-Volstead strength, for the use of employees who were working, in the belief that the law did not prohibit this practice.

The company officials will be subject to a grand jury investigation later, Mr. Brabant said.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huesemann and children and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Schwertke spent Labor day at Egg Harbor.

Miss May Turnow was the guest of Menominee friends Monday. Mr. and Mrs. John Hagen of Milwaukee visited friends here Saturday.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and everyone tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do."—Mrs. HERBERT LOVE, R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention. Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

Shiocton—Miss Margaret M. Singler of Shiocton and Handel Wadsworth of Cleveland, Ohio, were married Thursday forenoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Singler. The Rev. N. W. Conkle performed the ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives.

After a wedding breakfast, the couple left for Chicago. They will reside at Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Wadsworth is an opera singer and vocal instructor at Cleveland.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Singler of Appleton and Mr. and Mrs. S. W. B. Still of Jamestown, N. D., were here for the wedding.

Man Loses Hope
"For ten years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctor said I had cancer of the stomach and nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy 2 1/2 years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—For Sale at all druggists.

The Picnic's The Thing

These hot days when a trip to the lake or woods makes a welcome break in the daily routine. How the young folks enjoy the tasty lunch eaten under the overhanging foliage. But the dainties must be prepared, as the housewife well knows.

The quickest and easiest way to prepare the picnic lunch is with the STEWART Cabinet Gas Range—Instantly on the job for all cooking purposes.

The Stewart Cabinet Gas Range

is not only economical in fuel consumption, and always ready for service—but it is quick as well. Enables you to prepare an abundant lunch in very little time. Leaves the kitchen cool while you work. Doubles picnicking pleasure.

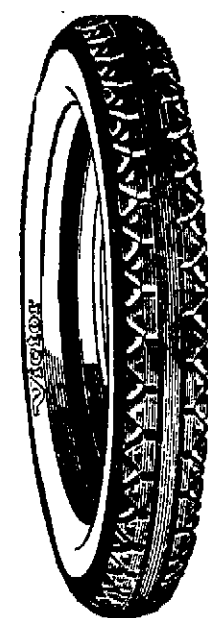

Order your Cabinet Range at once and take advantage of its many conveniences during the hot days.

By having your gas range equipped with a self-lighter you eliminate the use of matches which not only make dirt, but are positively dangerous especially where there are children. With self-lighter you merely press a convenient button and turn on the gas.

GREAT CROWD IN ARMORY TO HEAR SEN. LA FOLLETTE

Senator Refuses to Recognize Schneider's Candidacy Despite Reminders

Senator Robert M. LaFollette, re-established his reputation for "long distance" speaking when on Saturday afternoon he, together with Hermon L. Ekern, candidate for attorney-general, kept a capacity crowd sweating in the sultry heat in the armory for three and a half hours.

Yet very few of that audience left the building before the senator had finished speaking. So early had the crowd assembled that at 1:55 there were but few seats vacant. Almost promptly at 2 o'clock Attorney A. K. Kruschke, who introduced both the speakers, ascended the platform with Mr. Ekern and announced that Mr. LaFollette had arrived in the city, but was resting at a hotel.

SLAMS OPPONENT

The aspirant for the attorney-general's office then proceeded to kill time while the audience awaited the arrival of the chief speaker. For an hour he urged upon the voters to go to the polls Tuesday, denounced the platform of the Citizens' Republican conference for lack of a definite program and charged the big interests and the Esch Communists law with being responsible for the present industrial depression. He did not touch upon the work or office of attorney-general.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, while Mr. Ekern was still speaking, there was a crashing of necks, much whispering and a signal from the platform, and down the aisle marched the senator, smiling and bowing to the cheering crowd that had risen to its feet. Mr. LaFollette was visibly pleased.

"For a meeting taking place within a few hours after notice," he warmed, "this is one of the best assemblies I have had in the entire campaign."

SCHNEIDER IGNORED

Before he started talking he saw something staring him in the face like a grim reminder. Whereas at his recent appearance in Green Day labor unions waited in vain for his endorsement of George J. Schneider for congress and were served with an endorsement of Elmer S. Hall, here posters of Schneider were struck up all over the armory and even at the speakers' desk, each clamoring for recognition. But no word of endorsement was spoken, although Charles M. Schimpf, Appleton candidate for assembly, and Senator Donhardt of Neenah were recommended by Mr. Ekern for election.

Mr. LaFollette outlined the history of the progressive movement in Wisconsin, which he said dated from the 13 years that John Bascom was president of the University of Wisconsin. Under his tutelage a group of leaders were trained who took up the fight against the railroads, made the university a power in the state, put darning on its feet, established an efficient health department, and achieved a number of other things, he said. He asked the people to put real progressive back into office in order that the work might be resumed that had been halted by the Philip administration.

"Two kinds of government are offered you in Wisconsin," he declared. "One is that would make service to the people the only kind of government. The other is the kind you had 25 years ago—that subserves private and corporate interests."

PLAN TEACHER MEETING HERE FOR NEXT MONTH

NEW TEACHERS IN LAWRENCE STUDIOS

Five New Instructors Will Begin Work With Start of School Year

Announcement has been made of the addition of several new teachers to the faculty of the Lawrence Conservatory of Music. Earl L. Baker, who is to be professor of public school music and singing, has moved his family here from Minneapolis, where he has been supervisor of music in the public schools for eight years. Prof. Baker will have classes in all branches of public school music teaching and will also take a few pupils in voice. He will also organize and conduct courses in music at Appleton High school.

Carl S. McKee, well known Appleton soloist and former Lawrence Glee club star, will also take some voice students. Mr. McKee has had six years experience in the concert and teaching fields and is a capable conductor. The Misses Irma Sherman and Eugenie LeRicheux will give instruction in the preparatory and intermediate grades of the piano department. Both young women are artists and splendid musicians with considerable teaching experience and ability.

Miss Marion Miller, violinist, will assist Prof. Percy Fullinwider in the violin department. She is a recent graduate of the Lawrence conservatory and is thoroughly trained in the teaching methods used by Prof. Fullinwider in his department.

KAMPS LEAVES HOSPITAL AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

G. T. Kamps of John Strange Paper Co. of Menasha, who was injured in an automobile accident August 21, returned home from St. Elizabeth hospital last week. It will be three weeks, however, before he will be able to resume his work. At present he is on crutches.

Mr. Kamps was invited to ride home from Menasha by Joseph Jones of Appleton and had only gone a short distance when Mr. Jones' car was struck by a motor truck belonging to the Remick-Transfer Co. of Menasha. Mr. Kamps was thrown against the forward part of the automobile and injured his knee.

MAY MAKE CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT OF CITY WATERWORKS

New Municipal Charter Law Changes Personnel of Commission

A change in the management of the Appleton water department may go into effect Oct. 1 if the new municipal charter law passed by the state legislature is put into effect at that time. The measure provides that all municipally owned public utilities in Wisconsin cities must be under non-partisan management on Oct. 1.

The only municipally owned public utility in Appleton is the waterworks. This department during the era of the commission government, was operated by the city council. Four years ago it was placed under the supervision of a commission of five members including the mayor, an alderman and three private citizens. If management of public utilities is to be left to a committee that is not elected, but selected by appointment of the common council, then Mayor Henry Reuter and Alderman C. F. Smith will retire from the water commission on Oct. 1, and other citizens will have to be appointed. Mayor Reuter said in an interview Saturday.

QUESTION LEGALITY OF CLOSED TRAPPING SEASON

A question has arisen as to the legality of the closed season on muskrat trapping in Outagamie-co. this year, according to Attorney Mark S. Catlin. Several weeks ago a hearing on the subject was conducted at the courthouse by W. F. Barber of the Wisconsin Conservation commission. This hearing was done to expedite the closing of the season, rather than wait for the next session of legislature, when it might be too late. It is now questioned whether the closing would be legal, inasmuch as no actual testimony was taken at the hearing.

FALL WORK STARTS WITH EXTRA VIGOR

Announcements from the First Methodist church show that the various activities of the church and Sunday school are being taken up with renewed vigor after the summer vacation. By the middle of September, all departments of the Sunday school will have their work outlined and well underway. Board and teachers meetings of the school are being held early in the month.

Plans for the Epworth league year have already been made and include a regular course of study for the meeting and interesting social hours on Sunday evening before the meetings. Social affairs are also being planned. The Epworth league convention is to be held in Appleton in the spring and representatives are already planning to attend executive meetings at which final plans will be made.

TEACHERS WILL MEET IN OSHKOSH

Appleton teachers will attend the convention of the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers association to be held in Oshkosh Oct. 12 and 13. The sessions will be held in the Opera house. Prominent educators will be on the program. It is expected that about 300 educators representing all of the principal cities of the northeastern part of the state will be in attendance.

All school sessions will be dismissed during the two convention days in the territory in the association. The membership includes the graded school, high school and vocational school forces. O. H. Plenzke of Menasha is president of the association. Other officers are L. G. Schuesman of Kaukauna, vice president, W. G. Hagaman, Kaukauna, secretary, W. F. Kruschke, Kewaunee, treasurer.

GREAT DEMAND FOR GAS EMPTIES MANY TANKS HERE

New Record for Automobile Traffic Established Over Weekend

Managers and employees of gasoline filling stations here said that Saturday, Sunday and Monday morning were the busiest days they had ever experienced. Several stations had difficulty keeping their supplies replenished. A few of the pumps at garages were sold out and had trouble getting more gasoline.

The heavy demand started on Saturday when tourists began their week-end journeys. A steady stream of cars passed through the stations, keeping all the pumps busy.

The traffic on Monday was about as heavy as it has ever been. Roads were jammed with automobiles, going in all directions. Route 15, from Neenah south, resembled a procession all day Sunday and way into Monday night. While there were a large number of accidents, the surprising feature is that there weren't more.

Carelessness was blamed for most of the accidents over the weekend. Recklessness in passing cars and insane desire to get some place in a hurry caused several of the smashups. There were a host of minor accidents in the city Sunday and Monday.

Do you think before you smoke?

If you believe in thinking before you act — you will think before you smoke. Cigars are not all alike. There are as many varieties as there are of foods and liquids. In the long run, the cigar that will give you greatest enjoyment is the cigar best suited to your physical make-up. Mozart is made particularly for the man who does his best work at high pressure — the man of high nervous energy, who thinks fast and moves fast. A "Four" That Sets a New Standard The 1923 Buick Four Touring—$885

In beauty of appearance, dependability and economy of operation the Buick four-cylinder, five-passenger Touring has established an entirely new standard for four-cylinder cars.

Its low body with its clean, straight lines, accentuated by the high radiator and straight hood, give it a long, racy appearance that is new to cars of its class. Massive crown fenders add to this distinction, as do the snug-fitting, shapely top and the handsome drum-type head and cowl lamps.

And with this beauty has come a new riding comfort. The seats are deep and low with full leg room in both compartments. The steering column has been changed in position to increase driving ease and the gear shift lever has been raised to meet the driver's hand. A transmission lock, a windshield adjustable from the inside, and a transmission-driven speedometer likewise are among the many new refinements of this model.

Material changes also have been made in motor, chassis and body construction which contribute still further to the wonderful performance record characteristic of Buick cars for twenty years.

Distinctive Head Lamps

Drum-type head light and parking lamp are among the new refinements of all 1923 Buick models, both four and six.

The Buick Line for 1923 comprises fourteen models: Four—2 Pass. Roadster, $885; 5 Pass. Touring, $985; 5 Pass. Coupe, $1175; 5 Pass. Sedan, $1295; 6 Pass. Touring Sedan, $1325; Sixes—2 Pass. RESURRECTION ROCK

BY EDWIN BALMER
Little, Brown and Company

CHAPTER I

About the clear deep waters of Lake Superior, and bounding the northern forest of Michigan lies a realm of sand and of heights rugged wild, alluring—rich in copper and iron as are few other regions of the world. Kingdoms which won wide influence, have owned for meager materials of power, empire has warred with empire for stakes half as great.

In fact, France and her Indian allies long ago garrisoned forest stockades in war with England over this territory. England defended the region against the colonists.

But later the strength of the United States confined the struggle for possession to personal and individual combat of men against man—by right, by violence, open and secret—for the winning of power and wealth.

Here and there where something had happened—for good or for evil—which a man might never forget, the ghosts drew back the living.

At least men thus explained the return of Lucas Cullen to St. Florentin, the youngest of the two Cullen brothers, in 1896, suddenly appeared and, upon the site of the cabin where he and his wife lived when they founded St. Florentin and bossed the men building the first sawmill, he caused a new, enormous dwelling to be erected.

Lucas called this a summer cottage, and made it famous by bringing to the town for the summer the French nobleman, the Marquis de Chenal, a friend of his daughter Cecilia. The Marquis so well liked Cecilia and liked the place—not to mention Lucas Cullen's millions that he remained at St. Florentin all summer.

He married Cecilia that winter and took her—together with a million or so of Michigan forest money—to his chateau in Touraine and neither of them ever returned to the peninsula.

But Lucas and his wife and their younger daughter, then Deborah, came the next year, then Deborah married a westerner and moved to Wyoming. "Junior" Lucas and his brother John also married, and their wives preferred the more fashionable resorts of the east for the next summers.

So, at the turn of the century, old Lucas and his wife, were coming alone to the enormous frame house on the edge of the ruined old mill town above the shores of Lake Huron.

The real reason for Lucas' retreat from Chicago was his break with his brother John. They had always quarreled, but now they ceased to speak and the same streets could not hold both.

The purpose of the builder of the other great house near St. Florentin was far more puzzling. The structure was on a tiny island in Lake Huron, half a mile from the shore, a rocky, precipitous islet locally known as Resurrection Rock.

In the summer of 1912, barges appeared and anchored in the smooth water between Resurrection Rock and the shore, artisans of a dozen trades lived upon the barges while they erected a large, handsome house, chimneyed, wide of roof, graceful and pleasing.

But no master of the mansion appeared. Instead the newly completed house was closed, doors locked and barred, windows soundly shut—A white farmer, who lived a mile or so away upon the opposite mainland, was entrusted with the keys and was paid to inspect the premises periodically. Yes, it was an ordinary enough house, he reported.

But, after a few inspections alone, he always took some one with him. Speculation and wonder in the neighborhood soon took weird and fantastic forms. Poor, pious people ceased to approach.

At first, old Lucas Cullen laughed at the stories; but as time went on, they began to affect him.

The thing obsessed him. He was an old man now, over seventy, but hardy hand, vindictive and merciless yet to and strong, clear of eye, steady of all who opposed him. In all his long violent life, no one—and nothing was known to have shaken him until some one, without reason, raised that house on the islet locally known as Resurrection Rock.

CHAPTER II

The express from Chicago for Lake Superior and Saint Marie—operated by the government upon the January day, 1913, was nearing the Canadian almost on time in spite of the difficulty of making steam against a north wind and in a night temperature of twenty-two below zero. On time was forty-four in the morning.

Ethel Carew was the whole name of the girl hidden by the curtains of lower four. She was a young lady of twenty-two now; but the porter, who had been on that "run" for many years, knew her when she was a child—a fair, violet-eyed light-haired little girl from the west who traveled from Chicago with her uncles and aunts—Mr. and Mrs. John Cullen or Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Cullen—to visit her grandfather at St. Florentin.

She had no mother, it developed; and her father, for some reason, always was out home in Wyoming.

The porter tapped gently upon the wood partition at the head of lower four. The girl within, who had been lying awake, replied and instantly stirred herself. Whatever were her reflections, she dismissed them; and whereas she had scarcely been conscious of observing the lieutenant in section nine the evening before, this morning she noticed with interest that he also was getting up.

He was on his way home from France, she had heard—Ymca! France, she had heard him say last night in answer to a question.

The train was pulling into Escanaba now. The dark-haired young man, after a question to the brakeman, got down from the step and came forward near Ethel in search of the conductor.

"St. Florentin," she heard the conductor repeat. "No, never heard of it."

"I can tell you about St. Florentin," she offered. "It's the name of an old mill town. It's near Queen's; you take this train and get off there, then it's ten miles across country."

The young man bared his head, and his pleasant gray eyes lighted a little with excitement.

"You know it! Thank you," he said. "That's just what I wanted to know."

If you're going to St. Florentin," Ethel continued to volunteer impulsively, "you must be going to see my grandfather."

"Because he's the only man—except his servants—who lives there. It's a deserted village, except for his house."

"His name is Bagley?"

"No Cullen—Lucas Cullen."

"Then there's no one named Bagley—or Carew?"

Ethel started a little. "My name is Carew."

"Is it? Then your father's there—or is going to be there, Miss Carew?"

"My father has not been in St. Florentin for more than twenty years," Ethel said. "And now—my father was with a regiment of engineers," she explained. "He was killed last June."

"I was stupid," he said, "thinking only about my affairs."

"You did not know about my father?" Ethel returned in his defense.

"And there is a place called the Resurrection?"

"There's an island," Ethel said, "about half a mile off shore and not far from my grandfather's called Resurrection Rock."

"There is then?" he cried, this information amazingly stirring him.

He was breathing fast she saw, as he gazed down at her. He opened his coat and was fumbling in an inner pocket when the call of the brakeman came. The train was to start.

He seized her arm to steady her while she ran; he half lifted her to the car step and swung on after her.

CHAPTER III

"Queen!" the brakeman called and Ethel stood up, buttoning her coat close to her throat. The dark-haired young man looked about interrogatively, she nodded and he arose and also prepared to go out.

They stepped down upon the platform, and the train immediately pulled on.

"Bye," said a middle-aged Indian to Ethel.

"Good morning, Asa," she hailed, offering her gloved hand.

"This is Asa Redbird," Ethel said to the soldier, "who lives near my grandfather, and who is good enough to help us out sometimes."

"My name is Barney Lourelle," the young man completed the introduction speaking to the Indian as he offered his hand.

"Where you want to go?" the Indian asked with more interest.

"With us, Asa," Ethel supplied quickly. "Can you get him skis or shoes?"

"Yes," the Indian said. "You have these ones," he offered his skis. "Sled goes over to break road all way this afternoon. I come then."

"I seem to have selected you for my escort," Ethel said as they started out.

How did you hear the name of my father, Mr. Lourelle?" she asked, when they had gone a short distance.

He thrust his hand into a side pocket and drew out a square, white envelope with English stamp and postmark and with the English strip—

"Opened by the Censor. It was addressed to Barney Lourelle, Lieutenant of Infantry in a certain American regiment in France."

He handed it to her.

Nov. 7, 18.

Dear Barney:

One named Philip Carew is here and keeps asking for you. Do you know him? He says you don't but he knows you or at least seems to have some mighty important business for you.

If this sweet little altercation ceases soon I'd advise you to come and try to learn what he wants. If you can't perhaps you can get him there—Philip Carew, the name. Try it and see.

Yours, Ethel.

Ethel's breath stopped, she stood holding the letter with trembling hand while she examined the postmark which like the date written upon the page, was November 7, 1918.

"My father!" she said. "He was killed in June!"

GIVE CHILD HARD FOOD, ADVICE OF DENTISTS

London—Here are the rules of the British Dental association for the care of children's teeth.

Be sure the child sleeps with the mouth shut and when awake breathes through the nose. From the age of 2 let each meal contain some food that needs grinding. Begin the child's education in hard foods at nine months by giving it a bone, preferably chop bone with a little meat on, to exercise its gums. Do not let children drink until the end of the meal. Avoid many sweets and sweet biscuits and only give them as part of a meal. Finish each meal with a piece of fresh fruit or crisp salad, or, if these are not obtainable, a stale crust of bread, with butter if preferred, but not with jam.

Adventures Of The Twins

Sprinkle-Blow Gives Help
It just seemed the poor moon got out of one kind of trouble to get into another—sort of out of the frying pan into the fire.
Mr. Peersabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, was lost and now Comet-Legs, that awful fairy, had run off with the magic powder and threatened to turn the moon square.
Nancy and Nick were nearly at their wits' ends. "Wasn't it a good thing," said Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, had come to the moon to help them!
The three of them stood in the little house where the Moon-Man kept the handles for running the moon. Comet-Legs had been playing job with these handles, jerking the poor old moon this way and that like an automobile someone is just learning how to drive.
Mr. Sprinkle-Blow looked thoughtful.

"Well, my dears," he said finally, "there's only one thing to do. I'll stay and run this old slyebang of a moon while you go and hunt for Mr. Peersabout."
"That's a good idea," agreed Nick. Mr. Sprinkle-Blow stood his umbrella in a corner and hung up his hat. Then he went and looked at the calendar.
"Hum, ho!" he sighed. "Let's see. It says 'Full moon—shiny.' The first thing to do is to push all these handles back to place and begin all over."
This he did. Then he pulled out the handle marked "Full moon—shiny."
And folks on the earth quit wagging their heads and gazing up through their long glasses at the queer antics of the moon. For the moon suddenly had become quiet and peaceful and beautiful again—shining down over the tree-tops like a lamp.
Away went Nancy and Nick to hunt for poor Mr. Peersabout.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE
Among the northern races, particularly among the Finns, long luxurious hair is regarded as a woman's greatest beauty.
If she cuts her hair a girl signifies that she has no interest in receiving attentions from men and that she will listen to no proposals of marriage.
A frequent cause for separation or divorce is the husband's disillusionment when he finds his wife's hair is not all her own.

BRACELETS
Bracelets worn above the elbow are frequently seen. Those of jade or amber or white ivory are effective worn this way.

THE MARRIAGE SHIP

Chapter 3—Business Vs. Love

By Zoo Beckley

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Could they "live happily forever after?"
"See that?" Fred laughed, kissing his wife and resuming the wheel.
"The car that leaves you free! Recommended for lovers. Honest, Connie, that isn't a bad line to pull."

FRED, that they could.
Now starting out on their honeymoon, a camping trip, before Fred took over his new position as salesman for the Gypsy Motor Company in New York, Connie begins to wonder.

Did she or the Gypsy automobile occupy the center of Fred's being? Was the home to be an annex to the salesroom? The uncomfortable thought persisted in her brain.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
They drove in happy silence for a while. Then, with the persistence of a midge, the thought flew back at Connie of what Fred had said of "selling yourself" as a part of any selling game.

"Of course, dear," her voice was low, as one thinking aloud, "you wouldn't even think of mixing business into our—our home."
Fred was too absorbed in studying the way Gypsy took a stiffish slope to catch the note of incredulity in Connie's question. Connie's remark came vaguely, more like an academic hypothesis than a definite protest.

"Well! Darlingest, I don't exactly plan to park a Gypsy in our living-room, and sell from that. But—" he went on more seriously, "is there any reason if I run across a good prospect who is at the same time a decent human being why I shouldn't drag him or her or it to my castle and introduce them to my wife?"
"Mm—no. Only—after a hard day's work, I imagine you'd want to forget business and just relax at home." Connie ventured, voicing another of her cherished conceptions of married life.

Fred gave a shout of pride.
"Want to forget Gypsy? Not much I don't. Because you and Gyp are going to be mighty good pals, you know. Let me show you how little she is jealous of you!"
Fixing the wheel with a little trick he knew, he took both hands off it and hugged Connie into sudden breathlessness. With a squeal of mock alarm, she struggled. But Gypsy ran on smoothly, straight as a die in the middle of the road even

APPLETON LOSES TO MENASHA AND MANITOWOC

Menasha Wins Uphill Battle, 5 To 4, After One Pitcher Is Chased

Veteran Jimmy Dodge Grabs Second Game in Two Days, Holding Appleton to Two Hits in Seven Innings.

LABOR DAY GAMES

Appleton 4, Menasha 5.
Manitowoc 4, Green Bay 3.

Veteran Jimmy Dodge did an "iron man" stunt Monday afternoon when he took up the hurling burden for Menasha team of the Wisconsin State league and pitched his squad to an uphill win over Appleton after he had defeated Green Bay on Sunday in a great duel with Smithson, the Bay's mound ace. Dodge went on the hill after Appleton had chased Rook to the Showers with four hits and three runs in one and two-third innings and he had Sylvester's crew eating out of his hand the rest of the way, giving only two widely scattered hits. The score was 5 to 4 against him when he started but he finished with a 5 to 4 win to his credit. He signaled his debut on the mound by striking out Bergerino with the sacks clogged.

Harvey Stock was on the hill for Appleton but he wasn't going to give Menasha batted him hard, giving out ten hits, five of which went for extra bases. The visitors' burrhead's first knock in the first, fifth and seventh frames for four hits and the fifth was counted in the eighth when Cy Sheleski whaled the pill over the left field wall. He had fanned the first three times at the plate.

LOTS OF BOOTS
Errors put both pitchers in the hole several times. Johnny Sheleski dropped two infield popups which accounted for two Appleton hits and Zelenski booted a couple of balls which also figured in the run column. All three pitchers were wild, issuing seven passes between them.

Rook, who has quite a reputation as a moundman, was still unnerfed as a result of his experience at Menasha Sunday and went bad, although he has a good curve ball and a fast hop. Pitching against Green Bay Sunday he fanned the first three men to oppose with ten pitched balls but in the second inning he hit Metten on his head and it so unnerved him that he left the mound. Metten was not seriously hurt but he looked bad. He was unconscious for a time.

The game was one of the slowest ever played in Appleton, requiring two hours and fifty minutes. All the pitchers worked extremely slow and there was considerable squabbling over their positions on the rubber. There were a few spectacular stops but in the main the game was devoid of anything sensational.

TROUBLE STARTS EARLY
Stock got into trouble almost with the opening gun. Russell grounded out to start the fracas. English dropped a hit into rightfield and Delmore followed with a double which sent English home. Herzog whiffed and Leopold singled. Delmore got to third where he was stranded when Weissgerber grounded out.

Rook had retired Stock and Gill before he got into hot water. Sylvester opened the attack with a four base wallop over the rightfield fence. Bergerino singled and went to second when Herzog let a throw get away from him. Zelenski lifted a high one just over the edge of the infield which Y. Sheleski dropped and Bergerino counted. Smith singled to the leftfield fence but Zelenski, trying to reach home on the blow, was thrown out at the plate.

Stock got by unhurt in the second but Rook wasn't as lucky. He started by passing Schmidt, who was whiffed and then Stock was passed. Stock fled out to left and Gill got a life when English booted his ground ball. Sylvester scored Schmidt with a sharp grounder thru English. Rook was wigwagged to the bench and Dodge took up the job with three hostiles on bases. He fanned Bergerino to end the inning.

DODGE TIGHTENS UP

Both teams got men on bases in the third but nothing serious happened. A pass, hit and an error gave Appleton a run in the fourth. Stock was passed as a starter, was sacrificed to second by Stock and tried to score on Gill's hit over second, but was cut off at the plate a run down between third and home. Gill going to second on the play. Sylvester's sky high blow was lost by Cy Sheleski and Gill romped home with a run. Sylvester was thrown out trying to steal second. Thereafter Dodge was master of the situation all the way and not another man reached third and only two got as far as second.

Stock found the going pretty hard in the fifth when three hits let in two runs. Bergerino kicked a grounder from English as a starter but this damage wasn't great inasmuch as Gill and Sylvester engineered a double play which retired English and Delmore on the latter's fast grounder to second. Herzog fussed around until he found a ball he liked and then whaled it over the rightfield fence. Leopold followed with a hit to first. The second and third were scored on Weissgerber's double to left. J. Sheleski grounded out.

The seventh was another hard inning. Delmore doubled as a starter,

MRS. HOCKLEY WINS RIVERVIEW TITLE

Miss Arline Edmonds Beaten in Handicap Match—Slow in Starting

Mrs. C. C. Hockley is the new woman's golf champion of the River view Country club.

Mrs. Hockley won the crown Monday afternoon by defeating Miss Arline Edmonds on the local links. She annexed the club medal by defeating her opponent, 4 up and 3 to go. A handicap of seven strokes was in favor of Mrs. Hockley.

The match was played Labor day after it was postponed on Saturday because the contestants were visitors in Green Bay.

SHEBOYGAN WINS OVER KAUKAUNA

Higgins and Braun in Hurling Duel, with Braun Having the Edge

Sheboygan, Wis. — Sheboygan defeated Kaukauna here on Sunday by a score of 2 to 1. Both Braun and Higgins hurled excellent ball. Hits were evenly divided, each team getting even, but Sheboygan had better luck on the bases.

FOUD DU LAC 5, OSHKOSH 2

Oshkosh, Wis. — Poor fielding by Oshkosh and timely hits on the part of Fond du Lac gave the Cardinals a chance at the pennant when they defeated Oshkosh here on Sunday by a 5 to 2 score. Hank Schultz, former Appleton heater, pitched pretty ball for Oshkosh until the sixth, when errors and bases on balls gave Fond du Lac three runs. The Indians got to Kinney for ten hits, while Fondy secured eight off Schultz.

TRAILING THE TEAMS

Rain cancelled the Labor day activities of the leading New York clubs but while the Giants retained their six game lead due to the fact that St. Louis and Pittsburgh split a twin bill, the Yankees had their margin reduced to a single game by the Browns' double victory over Cleveland. George Sisler, batting leader in the American league, was the main spring in the Browns' offensive that brought victories by scores of 12 to 1 and 10 to 3. Sisler rammed out seven hits including three doubles and a triple, in nine times at bat, scored seven runs and drove in several others.

Ken Williams clouted out his thirty-third homer and tied "Tillie" Walker of the Athletics for the American league record.

went to third on Herzog's single and scored on Zelenski's boot of Weissgerber's grounder. Leopold fled out to Schmidt and J. Sheleski also

A timely homerun in the last half of the ninth inning by Captain Kirk saved the Interlakes team from being whitewashed by Kimberly in the booster game Sunday at Interlakes park.

The visitors romped off the field with a 5 to 1 victory and incidentally with their unbroken record of having won every tilt in the Outagamie county league.

BIG CROWD PRESENT
With the advance agents heralding the game as the biggest of the season and also that this was to bring the first defeat for the league leaders, the Interlake baseball park filled nearly to the capacity.

Kimberly scored early, Loose and Leimer counting a run apiece in the first inning. Loose repeated in the third inning and again in the fifth with Leimer bringing in the other score in the same frame.

PITCHERS DO WELL
Hass on the Kimberly mound allowed only five hits while O. Stenager let the visitors down with eight hits. Stenager struck out six men and Hass four. Hass was wild at times but airtight support helped him save the day.

Following the fifth inning when the visitors' scoring machine was halted, the game turned into a see saw affair. Kirk was first up in the ninth and accepted Hass' first offering with a mighty swat which resulted in the homerun and lone score.

ROD AND REEL

By DIXIE CARROLL

WATCH FOR SNAGS OR WEEDS
In fishing near shore where you have to bring him out of windfalls and weedy waters, if he starts for snags or weeds on his initial run you will just have to hold him. A steady pull on the line with a few sharp pumps of the rod will often urge him to change his original intention and follow you as you make for cleaner water. You will have to be careful where underwater snags or weeds are present when you strike the fish for his favorite trick is to tangle the line under the snags or take it down with him among the weeds, and if he does, you might as well say goodbye to Mr. Fish and your lure. The only thing you can do is to force him to cleaner water. If you are alone in the boat you will just naturally be out of luck or will have to do some tail playing to bring him out of the wet. Once out in clear water, let him take the line to his hearts content to a safe distance. Bringing pressure to bear on the reel will turn him in another direction.

There is no danger of the fish getting away while running with the bait unless you allow slack in your line. You must learn to quickly detect the lessening of the pull on the line as you thumb the reel and when the fish turns and the pull ceases, reel with speed or Mr. Fish will introduce you to one of his favorite tricks. Unless you are quick he will make a short rush toward you and feeling none of the pull will strike for the surface of the water and try to shake the bait from his mouth. With slack in the line and a poorly hooked fish the odds are against you, but by keeping the line taut all the time, even if the hooks aren't set well, you stand a good chance of adding him to your string.

One thing you must be careful of, if the fish gets enough slack to come into the air and try to shake out the bait. Keep the line taut as he hits the surface and tries to throw the bait, but as he falls back on the water allow the rod to go toward him and give him a little line. If you don't give him a slack when he lands back on the water you stand a chance of tearing the hook from the mouth.

President T. E. McGlynn of the Wisconsin State league saw the game, spending part of his time on the Ap

Lash Hurls Three Hit Game—Schommer and Nelson Change Positions

Freedom—Pitching a three-hit game with almost errorless support, Lash enabled Hortonville to win over Freedom 10 to 2 Sunday afternoon.

Schommer and Nelson exchanged positions during the game, each taking a turn at pitching and catching in an effort to curb the invaders' attack. Lash returned 12 batters to the bench by strikeouts. Nelson fanned seven men and Schommer returned two. Nelson was nicked for seven safeties in five innings and Schommer allowed four in as many rounds. Rempel and Klingert hit home runs.

KAUKAUNA WINS FROM OSHKOSH

Brewer Twirler Brings 6 to 1 Victory For Valley Visitors

LABOR DAY GAMES
Sheboygan 13, Fond du Lac 7.
Kaukauna 6, Oshkosh 1.

Oshkosh—Eddie Scaacht, of Milwaukee Brewer fame, won for Kaukauna at the Oshkosh Labor day game by twirling one of the most sensational games in the Wisconsin State Valley league, or the erstwhile Fox River Valley league. The visitors romped away with a 6 to 1 victory. Scaacht was unhit in the first three frames and despite the extra efforts of Oshkosh a lone run is all that it could score on him.

The feature of the game was a homerun by Stanford in the second inning for the visitors. C. Davey was the receiving end. The battery for Oshkosh was Kettendell and C. Runke. Bull Durham, the Babe Ruth of the W. I. league, relieved Runke after the fourth inning because of an injury sustained by the catcher.

Pop-Ups
A lot of time was wasted Monday afternoon on wrangling over the pitcher's position on "the rubber." Leopold started the row when he crabbed about Stock's position and Appleton retaliated by making it just as miserable for Dodge.

Rook was pretty nervous when he went on the hill and he was worried by the razzing of Sylvester's team. Normally he has a lot of "stiff" but he was afraid to put it on the ball and as a result he was easy picking.

Menasha fans, who were in the stand in large numbers, gave Rook quite a reception when he took up the heavy work. He didn't last long however.

Jimmy Dodge had his right arm working fine. He had been on the shelf for a time because his salary wasn't in shape but apparently the hot weather has thawed out all kinks. He was working strong all during the game in spite of his heavy labor on Sunday.

Stock's lack of control kept him in trouble. He would get a couple of strikes on a man then would lay the ball right in the groove. Result: The fielders were kept pretty busy chasing hard hit balls.

Fans along the third base line had a lot of fun razzing English, Menasha's third sacker. English, a petite youngster who runs like a girl and acts like one but withal he isn't such a bad ball player.

BLACK CREEK COPS GAME FROM DALE WITH 18 COUNTERS

Creeks Now Tied With Interlakes for Third Place in County Circuit

Black Creek—Victory over Dale and Interlakes' loss to Kimberly moved Black Creek up two notches and tied them with Interlakes for third place in the Outagamie County league.

Black Creek won from Dale 13 to 5 Sunday afternoon before a rather small crowd in a game which lacked the pep and ginger that had been displayed in former battles. The home club romped easily with Miss Victory by denting Nemon, Witt and Rasefeldt. Dale moundsman, for 17 safe bingles. Bramon was effective in pinches and with the exception of the second frame when Dale bunched hits for four runs, not a man got beyond second base until the eighth. Crawley, Black Creek shortstop, was the king slugger, getting four safe clouts in five trips to the plate.
